AfroEstima: Creative Bootcamp project is essential for several compelling reasons. It is a crucial part of the Creative Economy programme and has a specific focus on enhancing the knowledge and expertise of Afrodescendants creative entrepreneurs in Salvador. These entrepreneurs are actively seeking to strengthen their business ideas, models, and management skills, in collaboration with the Secretariat of Culture and Tourism of Salvador.

This broader initiative aims to position Salvador as a global Afro-tourism hub by enhancing the skills of Afro-Brazilian women from peripheral areas, strengthening the local creative sector, fostering business prospects, and providing access to markets with the support of UK professionals.

Objectives:

By incorporating cultural elements into the entrepreneurial training, participants can gain a more holistic understanding of their heritage, contributing to a richer and more authentic approach to their business endeavours.

Comprehensive Support: Through a series of structured meetings with a UK consultancy, supplemented by optional additional meetings, the project seeks to offer comprehensive and tailored support. This includes addressing specific challenges faced by participants and exploring opportunities for growth in their businesses.

Preparation and Delivery: The plan outlines meticulous preparation for each meeting, ensuring that the content is relevant and impactful. The delivery of these meetings is a crucial component, providing a platform for knowledge exchange, skill development, and collaboration.

Sustainability and Social Integration: The emphasis on sustainability signifies a commitment to responsible and ethical practices. By integrating sustainability considerations into the project, it aims to contribute to the long-term well-being of both the entrepreneurial ecosystem and the Afro-Brazilian community.

Community Impact: the project aspires to generate meaningful collaboration and deliver impactful outcomes. These outcomes are expected to contribute significantly to the growth and sustainability of Afro entrepreneurship in Salvador, creating a positive ripple effect within the community.

This, therefore, is a detailed excellent response that meets all aspects of the requirement leaving no ambiguity as to whether the bidder can meet the requirement.
7	Good – Overall the response demonstrates that the bidder meets all areas of the requirement and provides all of the areas of evidence requested, but contains some trivial omissions in relation to the level of detail requested in terms of either the response or the evidence.
